Sponsor Asia’s Only Animal Nutrition Conference During 2018!

Valuable sponsorships are now available for the 9th edition of FIAAP Animal Nutrition Asia and will be sold to those companies who inquire first. Nutritionists, mill and operations managers, formulators, veterinarians and animal feed and health consultants throughout Asia – and the rest of the world – will come together on March 27, 2018, for the one-day conference that is co-located with VICTAM Asia.

FIAAP Animal Nutrition Asia will focus on the latest innovations and research in animal feed ingredients and additives, with a specific emphasis on world compound production and antibiotic elimination. A line-up of leading-edge presenters will explore trends, innovations and strategies Asian animal feed industry representatives can use to strengthen their businesses in both the short and long term.

In addition to learning about new feed ingredient and additives research and solutions, attendees will also have networking opportunities during breaks, lunch and Q&A to foster interaction between FIAAP Conference speakers and fellow animal nutrition industry peers.

Be sure to contact your WATT Agribusiness Sales Manager for pricing and details (see contact information on page 2).
